Similar Case Pending Before the Supreme Court.

BERNARD WILL NOT RETURN

Meets His Lawyers Near State Line—Shocked By Electricity.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., July 6.—The Virginia Club and the Business Men's Association were fined $20 each in the Police Court this morning by Justice Simmons on the charge of the license inspectors, E. J. Doran, that they had not complied with a recent ordinance of the city requiring clubs where liquor is sold to pay $200 to the city. The fine was agreed to by the counsel for the defense and the court, because there is a similar case pending before the Court of Appeals for the purpose of procuring a reversal of the decision of Circuit Judge Blackstone, of Hampton, in the case which came before him from Phoenix. The decision of the Supreme Court in that case will determine the case here.

Judge Blackstone decided that the State tax of $2 a member to the limit of $350, is all that a club is required to pay, and that the city cannot impose an additional tax, because the State license forbids any other tax by the city. Both of the organizations here pay the limit, and they contend that the ordinance of the city, passed as a prohibitory law against social clubs, is unconstitutional.

The Virginia Club is the fashionable club here, and it has recently finished a handsome seven-story home. The beautiful rooms of a new seven-story office building of the Business Men's Association were opened to-night with a banquet. They are both in Plume Street, a block apart.

BERNARD IN NORFOLK.
Claude M. Bernard, former United States District Attorney for the Eastern District of North Carolina, against whom there is pending at Raleigh a suit of $20,000 damages for alleged betrayal, was in Norfolk to-day.

He was at the United States court as counsel in the case of Mitchell vs. the Norfolk Railway and Light Company. Young Dockery, who was shot by the father of another girl mentioned in the scandal, is implicated in a similar suit.

Bernard will not go back to Raleigh unless so advised by his lawyers, whom he will meet this evening near the North Carolina line. When he left he would not give his destination.

SHOCKED BY CURRENT.
F. Cooke, the electrician in charge of the circle swing at Pine Beach, was shocked by the electric current as he attempted to start the machine last night after the severe storm. There were puddles of water on the ground, and when he took hold of the apparatus while standing in one of the pools the current was conducted and he received a shock from which he was unconscious for an hour.

FUNERAL OF MAJOR HUMPHREYS.
The funeral of Major D. Humphreys occurred this afternoon from his late residence, No. 428 Pembroke Avenue, Ghent, conducted by his pastor, Rev. R. A. Robinson, of Colley Memorial Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. N. H. Summerell, of the Ghent Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Dr. Beverly D. Tucker, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. The body was forwarded to-night by the Washington steamer to Charleston, W. Va., his former home, for burial. It was not possible to defer the funeral until the arrival of his son, Arthur C. Humphreys, who is now in London, England, on route home.

The following were the pall-bearers: Nathaniel Beaman, Hugh M. Kerr, Thomas W. Shelton, Louis Feuerstein, Luther Sheldon, and Rev. Dr. W. F. Spottswood and Dr. Kirkland Ruffin.

I., are puzzled over the case of a young man, of No. 178 Chrystie Street, Manhattan, who, during an altercation on the ferry boat Castleton on the Fourth of July, was shot by Max Teacher. The bullet entered the left breast, and was at first thought to be harmless, but a further examination of the wound revealed that it had lodged in the man's heart. #### Hurried Fairbanks Up.

COLUMBUS, O., July 6.—"If you want to be shaved, go to the barber's. I can't wait." This is my busy day, and I can't wait.

The speaker was John Fickerson, village barber at Marysville, O., and he was addressing Vice-President Fairbanks, who was visiting at his boyhood home Friday, and had sent for the barber to come to his house to shave him. When Fickerson arrived the Vice-President had entered into a political conference, and wanted the barber to wait. The Vice-President hustled into the chair and the conferees waited.

Lawson Off.

BOSTON, MASS., July 6.—Thomas W. Lawson left Boston at half-past 11 o'clock yesterday morning for the West, to deliver his first public series of speeches along the line of his writings against the "system." His first long stop will be at Kansas City, where he arrives Friday at 11 o'clock in the morning.

About three hundred persons cheered Mr. Lawson's departure from the North station. He is traveling in the private car Hazelmere, attached to the Chicago limited on the Boston and Maine Railroad, and will go via Montreal. The car was recently used by Paderewski on his American tour.

Chairman Shonts Fined.

STAMFORD, CONN., July 6.—Because his chauffeur drove his car at a speed of twenty-two seconds for an eighth of a mile, T. P. #### Oldfield Sued for Divorce.

CLEVELAND, O., July 6.—Suits for divorce were entered last week by the wife of Barney Oldfield, automobileist, against both Cleveland and Columbus. Both suits have been withdrawn as the result of a compromise between Mr. and Mrs. Oldfield. It is said that Mr. Oldfield agreed to give his wife $5,000 alimony upon the understanding that they were to separate. Mrs. Oldfield charged that her husband had an income of $10,000 a year, but that she was obliged to sell furniture for food and clothing. Mrs. Oldfield also charged that there was another woman in the case.

South Spending Vast Sums

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BALTIMORE, MD., July 6.—Southern progress says the Manufacturers' Record this week, is exemplified in the bond issues made by various towns, cities, counties and States for public improvements. Reports received since January last show that the issue of a total of more than $45,000,000 has been decided upon within the last six months in the South, Missouri, Indian Territory and Oklahoma. The exact figures are $45,269,290, and of this amount not more than $13,000,000 are for refunding loans or for funding floating debt, leaving a total of about $32,269,290 for electric light plants, water works, systems, city halls, courthouses, schools, paying streets, building sewers and levees, etc. Of the refunding bonds more than $10,000,000 are in the State of Alabama alone, so it is apparent that the amount rent of 6,000 volts, strong enough to electrocute an elephant, sent through his body, Ray Abbott, an electrician, still lives, and will recover.

Married on a Dare.

FREHOLD, N. J., July 6.—Charles E. Jamison, of Mount Mills, aged sixty, and Laura Clayton, seventeen years old, daughter of Taylor Clayton, of Union Hill, attended the celebration of the Fourth of July there, and friends dared them to marry. The Rev. James Hewitt was summoned hastily, so as to perform the ceremony on the holiday. The bridegroom was a widower and has married twice. He had been courting a widow, and the gossip said he would marry her in the fall.

Baby Blown Into Lake.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., July 6.—The infant grandson of Adolph G. Hupfel, the New York brewer, was blown by the wind into Mr. Hupfel's private lake yesterday and drowned. The nurse left the child strapped in his carriage, by the side of the lake. When she returned both child and carriage were at the bottom.

Unaided, Rescued Thirty-Six.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., July 6.—Martin Green, keeper of the lighthouse off Beauvoir, near Pass Christian, Miss., single handed, in a tiny catboat, rescued thirty-six men and two sailors from the capsized schooner on which the party from the Y. M. C. A. summer camp had embarked to attend the Biloxi regatta Tuesday morning.

Hero's Hard Luck.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 6.—The heroic attempt of Elmer Rehnert, a brakeman on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, resulted in a remarkable case of hard luck. He lost a foot trying to save S. A. Mortimer, of this city, from suicide, while Mortimer's only loss consisted of having his wooden leg crushed to splinters.

Robbed Till to Answer Prayers.

PITTSBURG, July 6.—Hearing the congregation praying for money, Peter Tobin, 30 years old, robbed a till of $10 and turned it over to the Arthur Street Mission.

Peter said that while his father ex-claimed that it was not the way the Lord answered prayers for money, he thought as the church needed it so bad there would be no harm in taking it when the man was not looking.

Fell From Balloon.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—Thousands of persons witnessed a thrilling balloon accident at Allen's Lake, three miles out of East St. Louis, Tuesday evening, when the Roy Stoker, balloonist's helper, was dragged upwards fifty feet and fell to the earth on his head, sustaining injuries which are expected to prove fatal. As the balloon was being prepared for ascent, a gust of wind caught it from the top and a cry of fear caused everyone to let loose of his ropes. Stoker's foot was caught in a rope.

Mob Tore Men to Pieces.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 6.—A terrible tragedy of the bull ring is reported from Durango. A drunken spectator who was responsible for a bull going berserk in the ring, was literally torn to pieces by a mob. The sixth and last bull of the exhibition proved to be particularly large and fierce. Just as the matador lunged forward with his sword a drunken spectator hurled a piece of iron pipe. The pipe struck the matador on the head, and he fell senseless in front of the bull. The enraged animal succeeded in going him six times before he fell over dead.

As soon as the people realized what had happened there was a rush for the drunken offender. He was thrown into the ring and there torn to pieces.

OTHERS SHELTER IN A STABLE

Teachers Want An Award of Certificates From the School of Methods.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, VA., July 6.—The auditorium at the University was filled the morning of the Fourth with a great concourse of people to hear Superintendent Kennedy, of Batavia, N. Y., explain the "Batavia System," now in use in several public schools in the North and East. Professor Kennedy said he could not proceed with his lecture until he had called the teachers' attention to the following facts—it was a hot day in old Virginia; it was the Fourth of July; that in sight of the University is Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, the author of that great document; in sight also are the homes of Lewis and Clark. "This is sacred ground on which we stand, one can look from the windows of this great University, to the east, to the west, to the north, to the south, and drink in inspiration, ambition and enthusiasm."

THE SCHOOL OF ATHENS.
There is a wonderfully beautiful picture in the auditorium entitled "School of Athens," by Raphael, 1510. This picture was copied by George W. Brink in 1900, from the original, now in the Vatican at Rome, and was a gift of an alumnus to the University. Dr. Kennedy told of his visit to Rome, while the artist was copying this picture, and the difficulty of it, which the artist labored in perfecting his work. Mr. Brink was allowed only twenty inches of space, and had to roll and unroll his canvas as the work progressed. This picture covers the whole of one side of the vast auditorium.

The Batavia System is very simple. Two teachers to a class; one teacher proceeds with the regular work, while the other teacher works with the slow pupils and brings them up to the front ranks. Simple, "individual teaching." Professor Kennedy thinks this system should extend through the high school, the college and even into the university. "It has been a Godsend to our pupils and teachers the past seven years. The children are no longer worn out and disgusted with school life before they get through the grammar grades, and our teachers are no longer old and haggard before they reach the end of the year."

ELECTRICAL STORM.
The campus was a scene of wild confusion during the electrical storm in the afternoon. For two hours and forty minutes the rain fell in torrents and the thunder and lightning were terrific. It was almost impossible for the teachers to wade through the water to the cars after the storm ceased. Then the wires were all broken; cars running, and things looked serious.

Large parties had started for Monticello. Some succeeded in reaching the stables and found shelter there; others were drenched. When the storm ended and the party started homeward, it was found that the rivers were high, and the roads were impassable. Many of the party were stranded, and had to get to Charlottesville. Forty spent the night at the Keeley Sanitarium, several sat up all night before a fire at the keeper's home. The teachers will never forget the grand, wild spectacle of the waters gushing madly down the mountains.

A series of entertainments has been arranged. Polk Miller and his quartette will appear twice. Next Monday evening Mr. Southwick will give "Richelleu." Mr. Southwick always has a pleased audience. Mrs. Southwick will give a series of readings of miscellaneous readings on Thursday.

BAVONORALA.
Dr. James D. Paxton will deliver his celebrated lecture on Savonarola Saturday evening, July 8th.

Next week Dr. Currell will give three lectures, on "Prophecy," "The Holy Inferno," "Purgatory" and "Paradise." Miss Place, supervisor of music of the New York schools, will give a musical concert July 21st. Miss Place will be assisted by prominent talent from Lynchburg and Richmond. Large classes have been organized in vertical penmanship.

One of the finest displays of school work, manual training, drawing, etc., comes from the rural school of Pittsylvania county, Superintendent F. B. Watson; teacher, Miss Julia B. Swanson. On Saturday, July 15th, there will be an excursion to Luray, provided 150 teachers signify their intention of going.

The Teachers' Co-operative Association and the Teachers' League convened in joint session Wednesday evening. Addresses were made by President E. A. Alderman and Dr. Currell.

Some of the Richmond people at the University are Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gooch, Stapleton Gooch, Robert K. Gooch, Mr. Herbert Carlton, Mr. Truman Blufford, Mr. Albert Hill, Mr. Lee McCall, Mrs. Verna Albert, Miss Dena Phillips, Miss Elsie Phillips, Miss Annie Farnholt, Miss Nannie Blackburn, Miss Nannie Peggam, Miss Willie Bowles, Miss Annie White, Mrs. Walthall, Miss Luford, Miss Morris, Misses Nannie and Grace Tignor, Miss Nettie Stith, Misses Frances and Blanche Drew, Miss Bliss, Misses Vera Harris and sister, Professors Stewart and Foushee, of Richmond College.

Miss Anne Davis, of Danville, is quite popular. Miss Grace McNally, of Winterport, is doing excellent work in the art school. Professor Frank Kerrling is universally popular, and his classes are always filled.

The largest classes during this week have been those of Dr. Southwick, Professor Black, Miss Place, Miss McCowsky, Professor Darling, Mr. Woodley, Mr. Baillet and Mr. Tompkins.

WANT CERTIFICATES.

The second week of the School of Methods closes with a large percentage of Virginia teachers present; but the fact has been discussed over and over again, "Why is it that more teachers do not come to this school?" It is the expressed opinion of hundreds of teachers now present, that if city teachers were awarded certificates for the work done at this school, many more would come, who would go elsewhere. The work here counts for nothing, so far as advancement in the profession is concerned. Teachers can work here or not, as they please. If the faculty would award a certificate to teachers for six weeks' work, in any special course and allow this work to go on to a graduation diploma four times as many teachers would be present next term.

"This is the greatest summer school in the South; it has as its faculty the best teachers in the country and the attendance is larger this year than ever before. Now let the faculty and trustees consider the advisability of awarding diplomas and make an announcement to that effect at the close of this term; the result will be marvelous."
